This main policy gives effect to Digital Governance and E-Administration Policy and covers the purposes, responsibilities and operating expectations associated with Digital Governance. It should be read alongside supporting guidance and any subsequent circulars.

Context and Background

Stakeholders across University Administration have emphasised the importance of Digital Governance as a foundation for credible, well-governed higher education. The present main policy responds to that expectation by setting out clear, practical direction.

The policy landscape has evolved considerably in recent years, and institutions under University Administration have responded with renewed attention to Digital Governance, E-Administration, Records. This main policy provides the framework needed to guide consistent practice across the sector.

Object and Purpose

The purpose of this document is to establish a consistent basis for Digital Governance, E-Administration across University Administration-affiliated institutions, to clarify responsibilities, and to define the outcomes expected of every stakeholder.

By setting out the rationale, scope and operating expectations for Digital Governance, the document aims to reduce ambiguity, support institutional planning and improve the quality of E-Administration across the system.

Objectives

The principal objectives are to strengthen Digital Governance, harmonise institutional approaches to E-Administration, and establish measurable indicators through which progress can be tracked and reported.

In pursuing these objectives, University Administration intends to create conditions in which institutions can deliver consistent, high-quality outcomes in respect of Digital Governance, E-Administration, Records, with clear lines of accountability.

Scope

The provisions apply to all universities and colleges under University Administration. Sector partners, including employers and professional bodies, are expected to support implementation within their respective spheres.

This document covers all activities and stakeholders associated with Digital Governance within institutions affiliated to University Administration, together with arrangements for monitoring, review and reporting of outcomes.

Principal Provisions

Key provisions establish minimum standards for Digital Governance, define the responsibilities of institutional leadership, and require documented arrangements for E-Administration.

Key provisions establish minimum standards for Digital Governance, define the responsibilities of institutional leadership, and require documented arrangements for E-Administration.

Implementation Arrangements

Implementation will proceed through phased institutional adoption, supported by professional development, shared guidance and a common reporting calendar established by University Administration.

A dedicated implementation pathway, covering readiness assessment, capacity building and progressive rollout, has been designed to allow institutions of varying size and maturity to comply.

Institutional Responsibilities

Heads of institutions bear overall responsibility for embedding Digital Governance, supported by designated coordinators, academic bodies and administrative units within each institution.

University Administration provides policy direction, capacity support and performance oversight, while institutions translate the framework into operational practice and maintain day-to-day accountability.

Monitoring Arrangements

University Administration will review implementation against agreed indicators, publish consolidated outcomes, and engage institutions that require additional support or show exemplary practice.

Conclusion

This document is designed to evolve with institutional experience. Feedback from stakeholders will shape refinements, ensuring that the framework remains practical, proportionate and fit for purpose.
