Introduction

This guide supports institutions, officials and beneficiaries in applying the provisions of Examination Conduct and Malpractice Rules consistently. It explains eligibility, expected procedures and the supporting arrangements that govern day-to-day practice.

Issued in support of Examination Conduct and Malpractice Rules, this guide translates the framework into practical steps for implementation. It is intended to be read alongside the principal document and any related circulars.

Applicability

Covered entities are expected to align their internal procedures with the expectations set out here, adapting them only where local conditions or statutory requirements justify a documented variation.

Covered entities are expected to align their internal procedures with the expectations set out here, adapting them only where local conditions or statutory requirements justify a documented variation.

Preconditions

Implementation should be preceded by a readiness review covering Examinations, resourcing and staff awareness, so that obligations are understood before they take effect.

Implementation Steps

A staged approach is recommended, beginning with assessment and planning, followed by rollout, monitoring of early experience, and refinement in light of feedback before wider adoption.

1. Conduct an initial readiness review against Examinations, Malpractice.

2. Brief governing bodies, staff and relevant stakeholders on the expectations.
3. Apply the arrangements and maintain the required records.
4. Report on a regular cycle and act on review findings.
5. Appoint a lead officer and notify University Administration of the designated contact.

Roles in Implementation

Clear segregation of duties is encouraged, with institutional leadership providing oversight, the designated office managing administration, and internal controls verifying that practice matches policy.

Operating Steps

All procedural steps should be documented and time-bound, with responsibilities assigned at each stage and escalation paths agreed for complex or exceptional cases.

Reporting Requirements

Institutions are expected to retain supporting evidence for the reporting period and to make it available for verification by University Administration or its authorised representatives.

Conclusion

The success of this rules rests on shared understanding and consistent application. University Administration stands ready to support institutions in implementing Examinations and looks forward to reviewing collective progress.
